CONSTITUTION AND SUN.

From Yesterday's Evening Edition.

ATLANTA, JULY 17, 1873.

Summary of State News.

MACON.

The Macon Volunteers paraded Tuesday afternoon for the benefit of the young ladies of Wesleyan Female College.—Mayor Huff has made a proposition to the Trustees of Bibb County Academy in reference to the improvement of the school lot on Second street. He proposes to erect a handsome eight-room brick building for public school purposes on such part of the lot as the trustees may place at the disposal of the city. Telegraph and Messenger.

The Telegraph and Messenger learns that a compromise was effected between the bond holders and contractors having claims against the Macon and Brunswick Road on Saturday last. The contractors accept a preferred lien for 30 per cent. of their claim, the bond holders take judgment for the full amount of their bonds together with accumulated interest. A joint decree has been issued for the sale of the entire road bed, right of way, equipments, etc., at Brunswick on the 15th of October next.

LUMPKIN.

The young men of Lumpkin incline to the national game. The last contest took place on Saturday between the "Providence Nine," under Captain Chaney, and the "Lumpkin Scrubs," under J. T. Harrison. The Scrubs worked as manfully as any proper minded Scrub is expected to work, but the Providence fellows out winded them, and won the game.—The weather has been dry and hot, and corn is suffering. Cotton is doing finely.—On last Sunday a negro, Peter Berry, placed a loaded gun against the breast of Mr. Thomaston, white, to kill him. The negro's wife knocked up the gun just as it was fired. Berry now reads the morning papers in jail.—Independent.

The Independent is exercised about the condition of the roads about Lumpkin. It wants the Commissioners to hold a meeting and sit on them at once.

COLUMBUS.

Certain Columbus young men and boys have a habit of taking their weekly wash in the river just above the M. & G. R. R. bridge. The ladies and children who promenade on the bridge appreciate the motives, but not the exposure. The attention of the city authorities is being called to it.—A ten thousand pound ice machine made at the Columbus Iron Works for the city of Montgomery was shipped to that place on Monday. We hope Montgomery will now be able to keep cool.—Miss Minnie, only child of Mr. S. Shubiuski, and about 18 years old, died in Columbus on Saturday of intermittent fever.—Enquirer.

The Columbus citizens are always doing something which nobody else could do. The other day one of this hopeful set carefully adjusted his brass barreled pistol, took a long sight at a yellow cur dog, three feet and a half from the muzzle, and sent the ball with remarkable accuracy through the leg of a juvenile African who was watching the proceedings from a second story window across the street. The chances are that the negro will lose his leg, as the ball can't be extracted. The young gentleman will quit pistol shooting and confine his future attention to the drug business.

FORSYTH.

A Forsyth man drew $1,300 in the Louisville lottery. He is said to be the happiest man in town.—The adjourned term of Upson Court began yesterday. Pike Court will be held on the second Monday, and Butts the third Monday in this month.—Forsyth is some on hens. One Braham hen has laid 100 eggs, hatched 21 chickens and is now sitting on 14 other eggs that she has laid, all this the present season, which has not been a good time for laying.—A number of valuable real estate improvements are going on in Forsyth.—Judge Trippe of the Supreme Court reached Forsyth on last Saturday, and will remain during the College Commencement.—A negro man, Lewis Shannon, was found dead on the plantation of Mrs. A. D. Steele, six miles east of Forsyth, on Sunday. His throat was cut from ear to ear, and his skull fractured by the stroke of some heavy instrument. No clue as yet to the parties committing the crime or the causes that led to it.—Johnnie Banks, little son of Major J. R. Banks, died of congestion of the brain on Saturday morning.—Advertiser.

AMERICUS.

Crop prospects continue good for both corn and cotton, and although we hear some complaints of grass, the general report is that the crops are in good order. In Webster county both corn and cotton are looking well and in fine condition.—Americus is afraid that she is a little dirty. The attention of the people is being directed to the beauties of cleanliness.—The Americus sharper gets horses on the plea that he wants to try them with a view to purchasing. The game, however, is almost played out.—Republican.

Speedier Travel.

In less than six weeks the trip can be made from Philadelphia and New York to Atlanta in forty hours; to New Orleans in sixty. All that delays is the incompleteness of the Atlanta and Richmond road in western South Carolina, between Yorkville, Spartanburg, Greenville and Pendleton, that is to be finished by the 1st of August. The completed route will then be hence, via Washington, Richmond, Burkville, Danville, Greensboro, Salisbury, Charlotte, Atlanta, Montgomery and Mobile.

This is one of the fruits of the Southern Security Company. But it is only one. The company also control the roads from Richmond to Petersburg, Wilmington, Columbia, and Augusta; with the branch from Florence to Charleston; most of the route between Washington and Memphis, and the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas road. There are other connections. The important point is that this union of railway companies, under the control of the Security, is achieving an indisputable good in shortening the distance and lessening the period of travel between so distant extremes. With palace and sleeping cars, added to close connections and such speed, the Gulf State will be as easy a Northern resort in winter as the Northern for the South in summer, and both will find many conveniences to which they are unaccustomed.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Lightning in a Church.

A few Sundays ago, as high mass was being celebrated at Harmansdorf, on the Austrian frontier, and the service had proceeded as far as the offertorium, just as the priest and his assistants approached the altar a sharp flash of lightning lit up the church, followed instantaneously by a deafening peal of thunder. The lightning had struck the crowded church.

The men trembled, the women and children shrieked, and every one hastened to the door. Sixteen men and boys had been affected by the lightning, and were lying as if dead on the floor. The gust of air accompanying the flash had been so strong that a man was carried several feet by it, and the flowers strewn on the church floor were blown up to the ceiling. The priests left the altar and sought to quiet and reassure the frightened congregation.

The persons stunned by the lightning after some minutes returned to consciousness, and by degrees recovered the use of their limbs. On several were to be seen little blackened wounds, while the corresponding parts of their clothing were scorched. The service was concluded after quiet had been restored.

CHOLERA.

The Cholera Poison in Chattanooga.

Sudden Death of a Country Merchant from Cholera.

Special Dispatch to The Constitution.

CHATTANOOGA, July 16, 1873.

Three deaths here yesterday—one from cholera, one cholera morbus, and one from diarrhœa. Mr. Stone, a merchant from Ooltwah, came to the city yesterday for the purpose of paying some notes in bank; was taken with cholera at 10 A.M., and died last night.

Nearly every one is suffering with nauses, cramps in stomach, indigestion, and inactive liver. We hope for a hard rain, not for showers, and in the meanwhile everybody who remains in the city is paying strict attention to his organs of digestion.

Distructive Fire in Louisville, Kentucky.

Another Storm in Ohio.

LOUISVILLE, July 16.—A fire broke out to-night near the Public Library building. Bomberger broom company's store is now burning. There were a number of alarms during the evening. Some of the first fires are reported out. The fire is now burning in the neighborhood of Louisville Hotel.

GREAT CONFLAGRATION.

Four Fires Within Two and a Half Hours--Heavy Loss of Property.

LOUISVILLE, July 16.—There were four fires in this city last night within the space of two hours and a half.

The first fire occurred about 9:30 o'clock in the lumber yard of Long & Bro., doing but little damage.

The second one occurred in the candy manufactory of Conrad Rubler, on Market street, involving a loss of ten thousand dollars. Full insurance.

The third was on Third street, between Main and River streets, originating in J. E. Withers & Co.'s fine cut tobacco establishment, destroying that and the andjoining building occupied by Herbert & Wright as a mill furnishing establishment.

The loss of Withers & Co. is estimated at $8,000—insured in the Eastern and German offices of this city to the amount of $2,500 in each.

The loss of Herbert & Wright is about $5,000—insured.

The fourth fire, which broke out in Bamberger & Bloom's block, on Fourth street, between Green and Walnut streets, destroyed Vernon's grocery, Madam Bickley's fancy goods store, a vacant house in the block, and damaged Porgney's restaurant and confectionery. The loss of the latter is estimated at four thousand dollars. The particulars of the other losses has not yet been reported.

Body of Charlotte Willet Found Dead.

NEW YORK, July 16.—Byron A. Stirf, nephew of Charlotte Willett, whose half-eaten body was found in a house on eighty-seventh street on Sunday night, was the subject of to-day's mystery. He made application yesterday in Surrogate Court for letters of administration upon her personal estate. He alleges that the deceased left no will and personal estate which does not exceed six hundred dollars; that she was never married, and her sole surviving heirs are Eliza Haywardt, of Savannah, Georgia, and himself.

The weather is slightly cooler.

A dispatch from Wilkesbarre reports that there is apprehension of a general movement among the Miners for wages, which led to a long strike two years ago.

THE TRUSTEES

of the Peabody educational fund meet to-day. The President, with other trustees, including Governor Aiken, of South Carolina, and Dr. Fears of Virginia, are here.

The Spanish Government has ordered a war vessel to cruise along the coast of Biscay to prevent the landing of cargoes of arms and military stores for the Carlists.

Another Storm in Ohio.

CINCINNATI, July 16.—Another storm has prevailed throughout Ohio, greatly damaging crops and fruit. The spire of the German Reform Church, at Fort Wayne, was demolished by lighting. Trains have been stopped on several roads on account of the severe wash.

Cholera at Paducah, Ky.

PADUCAH, KY., July 16.—No new cases of the cholera.

Invehia has arrived from the West Indies. Five deaths from yellow fever during the passage.

Strike of Operatives in Cotton and Woolen Factories.

MADRID, July 16.—Dispatches from Barcelona announce that yesterday all the workmen in the cotton and woolen factories struck and the shops were closed. In the evening the employees, both sexes, assembled on the place and were harangued by several speakers, who urged them to emulate the cause of men of Alcoy to overthrow the municipal government, burn churches and public buildings and not received with favor. The speakers were hissed by their hearers. Before any serious disturbance had taken place troops arrived in the Plaza and the assembly dispersed. Further manifestations by the most violent among the workmen are apprehended. Precautions have been taken to deal with them promptly.

A PENNSYLVANIA HEIRESS:

A Harrisburg School Girl Becomes the Possessor of a Fortune of over $1,500,000.

From the Harrisburg Patriot, July 10]

The will of Thomas M'Kee, of Allegheny, whose death was announced a few days ago, has been filed in the Register's office. Nettie Adelia M'Kee, a daughter, aged about 20 years, who has spent a portion of her time attending school in this city, is made the sole possessor of her father's immense wealth, estimated at from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000. The will, dated March 2, 1870, is voluminous, having three or four codicils appended.

The deceased owned about 207 acres of land above Harrisburg, extending from the river to the school-house in Susquehanna township, at which elections are held, and embracing the driving park and Hoffman's woods. This property he inherited from his father, John M'Kee, who lived on the estate nearly a century ago. He was an Indian trader, and was agent under William Penn to negotiate treaties with the red men. The founder of Pennsylvania had reserved about 1,200 acres of land above this city, and though M'Kee's position and the fact that he was married to a woman in whose viens Indian blood coursed, over 400 acres were transferred to him. Half of this property is now owned by Hamilton Alricks, D. W. Gross and others, having been sold to them by Alexander M'Kee, deceased, brother of Thos. M'Kee, who has just died.

The elder M'Kee also obtained many other possessions by virtue of his relations with William Penn and the Indians, among them hundreds of acres of land in Allegheny county, to which place he removed between the years 1780 and 1790. John M'Kee had three sons, the last of whom living was Thomas M'Kee, who had inherited the immense estate by the death of his father and brothers. The colossal fortune of Thomas M'Kee, as has already been stated, goes to his only child. According to his will she is to have all his household furniture, thirty-three shares of stock in the Steubenville and Middletown Turnpike Company, all his money and other personal property, and all his real estate in Stowe Township, Allegheny county, comprising a tract of land of over 400 acres; also 55 acres in Chartier's township; 207 acres and 127 porches in Susquehanna township, Dauphin county; 11 lots in Allegheny City, and four lots in Rock Island, Illinois. The daughter is requested to encumber the estate with any mortgage on her own account, or for any husband to whom she may be married, but not to forfeit the property but to retain it whole, living on the rents, issues and profits thereof. The will names as the executors Thomas Jones, Jr., and Colonel Thomas M. Bayne, the latter a cousin of Miss M'Kee, but one of the codicils revokes the former appointment, and makes Colonel Bayne sole executor. The remaining codicils bequeath to the daughter three lots acquired after making the will.

A New Idea in Building.

It is stated in late scientific journals that wire netting for plastering is being rapidly introduced to take the place of laths. It takes less labor to place on the wall; is more continuous, and will not burn. Coarse netting, with one inch mesh, and made of strong wire is found to answer best. For ornamental cornice work it is especially valuable, for it can be bent into any desired form. Secured to an iron studding in a brick building our greatest danger on account of fire would be removed. A still further application of this plan is to make round bags of wire, resembling barrels and to coat them inside and out with cement.

When it hardens they resemble stone barrels. Filled with sand and sunk in rows and masses they make excellent building material for breakwaters. Another extension of the idea has been tried with success in England. It consists in making iron-framed buildings, covering them with wire netting and spreading concrete on both sides. It is claimed that a house—walls, floors, roofs, doors, partitions and all—has been built that is strong, firm, and absolutely incombustible. Various applications, of the use of wire netting and plaster or cement readily suggest themselves, and the matter is worthy of the attention of mechanics and builders.

Brevities.

The monthly traveling expenses of the Shah of Persia are said to be $250,000.

Dr. Mary E. Walker has been appointed to a $900 clerkship in the office of the Treasurer of the United States.

Every editor in Tennessee has been presented with a first "cotton bloom" of the season.

The late Jessie R. Grant bequeathed his entire estate, about $75,000, to his three daughters. He left nothing to the President.

A young Californian who became intoxicated for the first time, recently, felt so keenly his disgrace that he took strychnine and died.

A very observing young lady of this city says she can always recognize a newly married couple when they make their first appearance at church, as they sit either too close together or too far apart.

The Macon Ice Manufacturing Company have advanced the price of ice fifty per cent., and that, too, in the very midst of the heaviest ice demand of the whole year. The people growl.

There is no need for a panic, says the Doctor, for the disease has proven a conquerable one if fought skillfully at every step. In regard to disinfectants he says that a new zinc-and-iron disinfectant has been very successful in New Orleans, and other good disinfectants are copperas, carbolic acid and permanganate of potash.

The Illinois Freight Law.

The pro rata law of Illinois has been in operation only two weeks, and already the farmers begin to think they have caught a Tartar. The State Railroad Commissioners are flooded with complaints that the rates are generally higher than before. The advance in tolls runs from 10 to 140 per cent., and the estimated average increase throughout the State is about 30 per cent. Such rates are a virtual prohibition on the shipment of grain from some parts of the State—especially so as to corn in the present market. The daily averages receipts of grain have fallen off 25,000 bushels during the last week; and the law is exercising a depressing influence on Chicago trade.

The oppressed shippers and farmers appeal to the puzzled Railroad Commissioners for help, and the Commissioners reply that there is no help this side of the meeting of the Legislature in the middle of next January; that in the meanwhile the railroad companies have the right to establish a "reasonable" maximum of charges, subject to certain conditions intended to guard against discrimination but if the charges are excessive—that is, "unreasonable" to a jury—the aggrieved parties can commence actions forthwith. Such suits are entitled, under the new law, to preference over everything except criminal cases, and a fund is at the disposal of the State Railroad Commissioners to prosecute the companies at the instance of discontented shippers or consignees. The law business is, therefore, likely to be prosperous in Illinois during the remainder of the year.

A question of general interest has arisen from the effort to enforce the new law. The Illinois railroad commissioners have given an opinion that the pro rata principle of the law must be applied to freight shipped from other States after it reaches the border of Illinois, whether it be in transitu across the State, or destined to any point within the State; while the judges of Iowa courts hold that freight contracts made in Iowa to any point in Illinois, over roads operated in both States, will be binding irrespective of all new-fangled innovations against discriminations in Illinois. The decision of the Illinois commissioners means that the companies are to be prosecuted for "unjust discrimination" if they charge less for carrying a given quantity of freight to or from a point outside the State than they charge for carrying the same amount on shorter distances within the State. This ruling debars railroads from charging nominal rates, as they intended to, through Iowa or Indiana so as to set off excessive charges in Illinois.

The suffering shippers do not relish a weary waiting of five or more years while the question raised in Iowa is passing through the various courts to the highest one in Washington for a final settlement. The more radical revolutionary portion of them regard it as a question of comm rce between the States, and demand that Congress shall regulate it by passing a general act based on the pro rata law or Illinois.

Details of the Plot to Rob the Shah.

New York, July 14.—A London correspondent publishes a story of a conspiracy to rob the Shah of Persia of his jewels. The party consisted of three remarkable men, criminals of the first water, yet who were totally unknown to the London police, and, indeed, though often compromised, had never been convicted of felony. They were Col. Algernon Bignor Hawkins, the leader of the party and organizer of the conspiracy; Serafino, (his other name is not known) a Jew diamond broker of Marseilles, but formerly of Salonics; and Baron Narsas Migraditch Dadian, formerly serafi, or money lender, of Aleppo, but lately of London and Paris, at Euticabian Armenean, and said to be connected with the eminent Oglon Dadian family, which for so long has managed the finances of the Sublime Porte. The fourth and last actor in the conspiracy, Toby Spring, is a first-class burglar and safe-blower. Toby was left in London, while the others went to Moscow and managed to get their names attached in some capacity to the Shah's suite. Hawkins then hastened to London, rented a handsome furnished house in the neighborhood of Potman Square, hired a retinue of flunkies, and gave himself out for an American nabob, who had come to spend a few weeks in the great city, and especially to give some recreation to his daughter, just finishing her education at a fashionable school on the Loire. It had been designed to commit the robbery while the Shah was surrounded by his retinue and guards in Buckingham Palace, but this idea was given up for the safer one of inducing the Shah to visit the house, and while there get possession of his jewels. According to the story, an appointment was made for the Shah to visit Hawkins at the house, his so-called daughter being the attraction. When Narses was made aware of his success, he got intoxicated smoking opium, and was seen in that condition on the streets.

A detective followed him to see he might not come to harm, and saw him go to Hawkin's office, knock for admittance, and the door was opened by Toby Spring, whom he recognized. Thinking that Narses had fallen among thieves, the detective got assistance and forced his way into the house. Toby was secured, also Serafino. Hawkins made his escape, but Narses, in his fright and delirium, made straight for the river and was drowned. Serafino made a partial confession and surrendered a quantity of burglar's tools and the plot disclosed.

Post-Office Romance.

Manchester Union.]

Regularly every two weeks for the past six years a letter has been received at the Post-office, addressed to "Dr. —, Manchester, N. H." written evidently by the same hand. The calligraphy is good, and is evidently that of a lady. The name is entered on the list time after time, and no one has ever claimed one of them. After lying at the office the time specified by law the letters are sent, one after the other, to the dead-letter office at Washington. So it goes on year after year.

On one occasion one of the letters was returned from the dead-letter office because it contained some trifle of lace, which the Department was desirous should be returned to the writer. The letter gave no clue as to who or what the writer was, and was signed simply "Emeline." This name was entered on the list, but no one ever claimed the letter or the bits of lace. Another strange feature of this case is that the "oldest inhabitant" has never heard of any man the letters bear, and so the whole matter remains a mystery year after year.

An Exciting Scene on the Plains.—Out on the plains, about 300 miles from Denver, is a vertical bluff seventy-five feet high. A party of hunters recently stampeded a herd of buffaloes right to the brink of the precipice. The foremost brutes, appreciating their critical condition, attempted to avert the calamity, but the frightened hundreds behind crowded forward with characteristic persistency. The front rank, with legs stretched toward each cardinal point of the compass, bellowed in concert and descended to their fate. Before the pressure from behind could be stopped, the next rank and the next rank followed, imitating the gesture and the bellowing of the first. For thirty seconds it rained buffaloes, and the white sand at the foot of that bluff was incarnadine with the life blood of wild meat, and not until the falls of fifty or seventy-five of that herd had waved adieu to this wicked world did the movement cease.—Denver News.

Cholera.

Dr. John C. Peters, the distinguished author of "Notes on the Origin, Nature, Prevention and Treatment of Asiatic Cholera" was sent by the New York Board of Health on an official tour of inquiry to the Southern cities relative to the present visitation of cholera. He was interviewed both at Cincinnati and Nashville, in each of which cities he examined many cases.

The Doctor says without hesitation that the P. D. is true Asiatic cholera. The cold tongue and breath, the rice water discharges, the blue shriveled bodies that fall down and die in three or four hours, do not pertain to cholera morbus. The disease came to us from Europe where it has prevailed for over a year. A Russian ship from Odessa brought it to New Orleans. The latter city was and is cleaner than it ever has been before. They were expecting a visitation of yellow fever, and the city authorities had the city thoroughly cleaned and every house disinfected with a new and cheap disinfectant which is very popular.

The first case occurred on the ninth day of February, and since then, despite its superior cleanliness, there have been 141 cases of admitted cholera and 92 cases of what they called cholera morbus. From New Orleans the deadly virus traveled by rail and water until it reached Memphis and Nashville, and even Lake Erie.

Dr. Peters' opinions respecting cholera are those which have been reached, after long years of investigation, by each eminent physicians as Budd, Snow and Simon of England. He says there can be no cholera without contact with cholera poison, and that not through the air, but by being taken with food and drink. The disease is conveyed by persons and things, especially by clothing. He thought eating would not bring it on, though it might aggravate it after the poison had been taken. It is perfectly safe to eat vegetables at all times, provided they are sound. Asiatic cholera is just as true and specific a disease as smallpox, and while filth and imprudence will intensify it, no amount of filth or imprudence will cause it. If you have the poison of cholera in your system, bad rum, bad meats, bad vegetables, bad fruits, bad water—the latter ten to one greater than the rest—will intensify it and make it fatal.

There is no need for a panic, says the Doctor, for the disease has proven a conquerable one if fought skillfully at every step. In regard to disinfectants he says that a new zinc-and-iron disinfectant has been very successful in New Orleans, and other good disinfectants are copperas, carbolic acid and permanganate of potash.

Elopement and Tragedy

Sad Finale to Love's Young Dream.

Mysterious Death Of a Devoted Couple at Harmony, Pa.

Both Found Weltering in Blood

Is it Suicide or Murder?

Pittsburg, Pa., July 12, 1873.

A terrible tragedy was enacted yesterday afternoon in the quiet, old fashioned Dutch village of Harmony, some twenty-five miles distant from this city, accessible only by stage, and lacking telegraph connection with the outer world. The victims of this murder and suicide were Miss Kate Faulstech, a beautiful girl, aged seventeen, and John Frazier, a sober, industrious young fellow of about twenty-five years of age.

Little less than a year ago the parties resided with their respective parents, in adjoining houses, in the centre of Wheeling, W. A. Frazier was sober and was well thought of in the neighborhood, while Kate Faulstech was also of an excellent family and the pet of the household. An acquaintance between the two was struck up, which ripened into mutual affection for each other. The parents of Kate watched the progress of affairs and at a proper time slipped in and forbade Frazier to visit the house any more. The lovers, however, arranged secret meetings, and, at length becoming convinced that the consent of Kate's parents could never be had to their union, the young pair resolved on eloping.

One dark night the girl left her happy home and started for this city with her lover. The mother of the girl, on discovering the absence of her daughter, was convinced in her own mind that she had run away. The telegraph was put in operation, and, according to instructions, the train was stopped and the two elopers captured near Steubenville. They were brought back and the parents of the girl brought an action against Frazier on the charge of enticing their daughter from her home.

They failed to make out a case, owing to the fact that the girl would testify nothing damaging to her lover. Shortly afterward Frazier started to New York, and from there came to this city, where he remained for some time, keeping up a secret correspondence with the object of his soul's affection. In answer to his request they arranged for an elopement. All necessary preparations were made and arrangements for departure secretly to Wooster, Ohio, were carefully planned at this point.

Frazier met her according to agreement, and from there came to this city, where they lived as man and wife for some weeks. It is not known whether they were married or not; but it is presumed they were, as Frazier wrote to that effect to some friends in Wheeling from this city a few days ago. Yesterday John and Kate arrived there, and put up at Drovers' Home, kept by James Chauncey. Both were well dressed and shown to a room, where they spent the most of the day, and nothing particular was noticed either about their movements or conduct. In the evening the gentleman asked the proprietor where a buggy could be hired. He thought he should like to take a drive, as the country seemed very beautiful. Accordingly a messenger was sent to hire a vehicle, and in due time it was driven to the door of the hotel.

Word was sent to the strangers who, of course, were supposed to be man and wife, that the buggy was ready and waiting at the door. The couple, however, did not promptly come down stairs, and the proprietor waited patiently for his guests, thinking, perhaps, that the gentleman might need some instructions as to which road was best to drive along.

While thus waiting he was startled by hearing the report of a pistol from the room. Chauncey instantly ran up stairs, and was horrified to see a pistol shot wound in the young girl's forehead, from which the warm blood was slowly trickling down her ashy pale face.

Kate staggered like a drunken woman and fell helplessly into the terrified landlord's arms. He slowly descended the stairs with his burden, when he was gratified by a second report of a pistol. Half crazed with fright, he dropped the dying girl, and, rushing up stairs, found Frazier lying on the floor, writhing in the agonies of death, his face covered with blood and a bullet hole in his forehead. He was lifted into bed, but made no reply to the questions put to him. Medical assistance was summoned, and the doctors at once commenced to probe for the ball. As the man's injuries were of a most serious nature this work was soon given up. The unfortunate lover lingered till this afternoon and died. The wounded girl refuses to answer any questions in regard to the shooting, and being in such a condition no one has the heart to insist on her giving replies to questions concerning the sad affair. The latest intelligence from Harmony to-night state that she is now unconscious, and death may be looked for at any moment. The supposition is that the couple could no, withstand the painful opposition and persecutions of the enraged parents and preferred death rather than sumbit to another separation. The affair, as may be imagined, created the greatest excitement in the humble village of Harmony.

Impending Fashions.

From Mrs. Burnham's Letter to Missouri Republican.

Every now and then we get a refreshing rumor from Paris that startles us. A few weeks ago it was the reported abolition of gloves. Friday it is the abdication of corsets. A very fine thing to do away with the last named articles, according to Dio Lewis, Elizabeth Stewart, and old hygienic Mary A. Walker, besides our army of orators who have earned the ills of doctors and professors through tirades on corsets. For a woman with a thirty-six inch waist to go cotlapsing her fluss with a corset of eighteen or twenty inches they are undoubtedly unhealthy; but a corset of twenty-two inches a waist of the same dimensions is a comfort, a stay, and a support.

In Aimee's group were several Frenchwomen who went without these affairs. As they were quite stout, the effect was ridiculous. If, as the papers state, corsets are actually abandoned in Paris, a fine-looking party they must be. The latest French-made dresses are dresses no more. They are mere drapings with the fearfully low necks, absence of all sleeves, and a mere strap going over the naked shoulder, joining the dress at the small of the back and the pit of the stomach. The skirt is strangely and wonderfully hung. It laps and folds; it is caught high at the top, or on the back, and is shaped tightly about the entire figure. From beneath this drapery streams out a two-yard train. Out-door costumes are made, as far as the drapery is concerned, in the same style. These fashions demand revolving pedestals, and what dancers term the "slow movements." No dress of this kind could be taken on its owner's back in a hurry anywhere. Of course, corsets and a good many other articles of underwear, hitherto deemed indispensable, will have to be taken off for the "Empire" waist. At a very swell wedding lately the high-toned belles held their arms like trussed fowls, to prevent the silk and lace suspenders that did duty as dress-waists from falling off their shoulders. The same bridal party were to the number of a dozen photographed, and if I were to send a copy up to Connecticut I'd not only be prayed for in the churches as one lost, but I'd be liable to indictment for sending indecent pictures by mail. No gloves! That's dreadful for nice looks. No corsets! That's bad for comfort; and no waists to our dresses, and that's getting to be cool for summer, if it possesses no other decided advantages.

The Longevity of Clergymen.

From New York Methodist.]

The fact so often asserted of the longevity of clergymen has received a fresh demonstration. Professor Tuttle, of Wabash College, Indiana, has made an examination of the ages of 2,449 ministers whose lives are noticed in "Sprague's Annals" and other records. Their total of years was 148,976, their average age a little over sixty-one years. Only fifty-two of the whole number died under forty. One out of every seven of the whole number was eighty-eight or upwards at death. Between one-third and one-half of the whole were sixty years or upwards at death. Considerably more than one-half of the whole were over sixty years of age at death. Three-fourths of the whole were over fifty years of age at death. Seven-eighths of the whole were over forty years of age at death. As to the several churches there is a difference. The Orthodox Congregationalist ministers show an average of sixty-five years, the Baptists of sixty-four, the Presbyterians of sixty-one, Episcopalians of fifty-nine. No conditions were more favorable to long life than those under which the ministers of New England lived in the olden time. Their sentiments were often for life; their incomes, if narrow, were assured; their studies and labors were free from anxiety and vexation. The modern ministers who will best compare with them are the Wesleyans of England. The Wesleyan system provides so thoroughly and so impartially for the wants of all its ministers that they are without serious cares. As a consequence, they are noted for the great age which many of them attain.

The attendance of visitors has been crowded and brilliant. The exercises have been of a very high character, showing the and the high and meritorious management of the college.

One of the pupils from West End, a suburb of Atlanta,

Miss Ella Wight,

has a voice of remarkable beauty, and I find has become well known in Macon for her high musical capacities. Her voice is very rich and sweet, and she is an artist of great care and promise. Another fine voice was that of Miss Sallie Jones, of Burke county.

I am pleased to report that the eight daughters of the gallant and traveled Gorman, of the Talbotton Standard, have all graduated brilliantly.

THE CONSTITUTION,

with its lengthy special telegraphic account of yesterday's exercises, was for sale everywhere in the streets of Macon this morning at seven o'clock, and was largely bought up and its enterprise complimented.

I called on our brother of the Mac.n Telegraph and Messenger, and found them hospitable and prosperous. Col. Chis, by was mulching and subsoiling some of those excellent editorials he gets off. Col. Reese was philosophizing in anticipation on the vanity of old age, writing racy paragraphs and bottling gigantic mosquitoes. Mr Watson is doing fine work and making hosts of friends.

Middle Georgia Medical Society.

Interesting and Harmonious Meeting.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

A painful accident occured here to-night. A horse ran away and threw a lady out of a buggy, breaking her collar bone. Dr J B Turner set the broken limb, and the lady is reported getting along fine'y.

Monroe Female College

Brilliant Commencement—Immense Crowd—Interesting Exercises—Eloquent Address by Rev. James Dixon, D. D.—Parting Song.

a distinguished and merited compliment to the fair vocalist.

To-day the people commenced pouring in from town and country at an early hour. There was an immense crowd at the college, and that Lamon edifice was densely packed.

In rear of the stage was suspended beautiful paintings and pencil drawings, evidently the work of the college girls. It was a highly creditable display of art. The of the people of Forsyth is proverbial, but to be appreciated in all its lavishness and magnificence, must be experienced.

GENEROUS HOSPITALITY

The commencement exercises to day began with

A SALUTATORY,

by Miss Lula K. Asbury, of Forsyth. It was pointed, sensible and well read.

Miss Leonora Lipman, of Forsyth, read, "Whispers from the Pines," in fine style and with pathos.

"Thought," by Miss Laura Lee, of Atlanta, aptly set forth what thought has done and is doing for man.

Miss Lizzie W. Gibson, of Forsyth, read exceedingly well an essay entitled, "What brought you forth to-day?" It was keenly satirical, but abounded in excellent sentiments.

Miss Helena Amos, of Forsyth, made an earnest appeal for charitable thought and action in an essay on "If we Knew."

"Popular Absurdities" was the theme selected by Miss Mattie E. Daniely, of Forsyth. It was a lively, womanly composition.

The evanescent character of life was portrayed in glowing colors by Miss Lula K. Asbury in "Life is Fleeting."

Miss Emily J. Hillyer, of Forsyth, chose a novel subject—"Delirium our best Deceiver"—and treated it in superb style.

Miss Sallie P. Cabaniss, of Atlanta, made a fine dash at "settled folks in her well written essay on "Living on Stilts."

"Chaos and Cosmos" was a grand theme, but grandly treated by Miss Kate Hillyer, of Forsyth.

Miss Mollie Painsace, of Monroe county, read with splendid effect an able essay on "The Unattained."

"Devices" was the appropriate title of an essay by Miss Celeste Hutchins, of Blakely. It was finely conceived and well read.

The valedictory by Miss Linnie W. Gibson, of Forsyth, was chaste in sentiment, and touched all hearts by its tenderness and beauty.

CONFERRING THE DEGREES.

The degrees were conferred by President Asbury, accompanied by a model address to the graduating class.

THE LITERARY ADDRESS

was delivered by Rev. James Dixon, D.D., of Augusta. It was a model of elocution, thought and literary excellence. His theme was "Literature and Art."

The senior class then sang in a touching and beautiful manner, to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne," the following:

PARTING SONG.

We part for ayes! no more we meet
Within this sacred hall;
Then should we not, like friends, repeat
Our kind farewell to all?

A long farewell to all—
A kind farewell to all;
Oh! let us give, ere yet we part,
One kind farewell to all.

Together we have spent these years,
These years that fly so fast—
Together felt the joys and cares
That consecrate the past. Chorus.

Our hearts are now ungalled with strife,
Our hearts are free and fair;
But we can never meet in life
With hearts that we have here. Chorus.

In life will many a sorrow keep
The warmth of feeling down,
And many a mark and wrinkle deep
Record misfortune's frown. Chorus.

When grief shall rest the feeling heart
When sorrow crush the soul,
These peaceful scenes from which we part
Will o'er the memory roll. Chorus.

The following

LETTER FROM GOV. SMITH

was received:

July 15, 1873.

Dr. Jas. S. Lawton, Forsyth, Ga.:

Dear Sir—I regret to say that I cannot be at Forsyth on Thursday next. I am suffering from a throat affection, which has been aggravated within the last day or two by active treatment.

The disappointment is felt more by myself than by any one else, for I had promised myself great pleasure in meeting my old friends. I must forego the pleasure, however, as it would be imprudent for me to attempt to deliver an address in my present condition. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

JAMES M. SMITH.

THE ALUMNI FESTIVAL

takes place to-night. There will be a reunion of the friends and patrons of the college—a delightful sociable to night, at which fair maidens and love'y matrons, and the beauty and elite of the section will be out. An interesting feature to-night will be in which the girls will appear to striking advantage in their graceful and captivating evolutions.

TO THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

Shepherd and Cooke Versus Charles A. Dana.

New York, July 16.—The case of A. R. Shepherd and Henry D. Cooke against Charles A. Dana was up before United States District Judge Blatchford today. Judge Fisher and District Attorney Barrington, of Washington, argued for the removal of the trial to Washington. District Attorney Bliss made a formal motion to that effect.

Ex-Judge Shipman, on behalf of Mr. Davis, opposed the motion. The argument is still going on. The court room is densely crowded with gentlemen of journalistic and legal professions.

In Southern State bonds sales were confined to $17,000 of Virginia consols at 53, and $1,000 Missouri 6s at 93¼.

The engineer and steward of the Meridian died of yellow fever and were buried at the quarantine. Several passengers are sick at the quarantine hospital.

PROBABILITIES.

Judge Blatchford Refuses to Remove Dana's Trial to Washington.

New York, July 16.—Judge Blatchford has denied the application for a warrant for the removal of Charles A. Dana to Washington for trial. He held that it would be unconstitutional to send him for trial to a court where there is no trial by jury, as in the police courts of the District of Columbia.

The decision was received with cheers by a large crowd in the court.

Prominent Lawyer Dead

Columbia, July 16.—Colonel Lemon Fair, a prominent lawyer, and nearly a quarter of a century Solicitor of the Middle Circuit, is dead; aged 73.

Retirement of Legal Tender Notes.

Washington, July 16.—The Treasury Department wishes to retire all the legal tender notes issued prior to 1866.

POSTAL TROUBLES.

Vice President Wilson Paralyzed.

Boston, July 16.—The postmaster refused to recognize official stamps on letters addressed to private individuals; also as fees for registration. The Post master-General decides that the Boston postmaster is wrong.

Vice President Wilson is partially paralyzed. His face is disfigured and his speech somewhat affected. It is probable that Senator Carpenter will preside at the opening of the Senate.

Birmingham and Knoxville.

A telegram from Birmingham to the Montgomery Advertiser, dated July 15, 9 p. m., says that on'y two cholera deaths and few new cases had occurred in the past twenty-four hours. The city is, however, nearly depopulated, not over five hundred people remaining out of four thousand. Money, supplies and nurses are coming in from all parts of the State to the relief of the destitute.

On Monday there was almost a panic in Knoxville. Two or three cholaraic deaths occurred on Cruzier street in the valley of First Creek. The Press and Herald publishes the following theory in relation to the cases along the creek.

It will be remembered that several cases of cholera occurred at Fountain Head—the spring in which First Creek takes its rise—during the past two weeks, also at water Cooled Seat. The Mrs. Harris who died at the toll-gate, lived in a small house built over a mill race leading from this creek, two miles above town. Crozier street runs parallel with and close to First Creek, on the west side of it. On the east side, in the same distance, there is no street and but a few scattering houses. The theory is that the poison or whatever it may be that created the sickness, came down on the water of the creek from Fountain Head and spread its miasma through the valley. Whatever may be the actual facts, a number of the residents on the street concluded to move away from it and did so during the day.

Carlist on the War Path.

Batonne, July 16.—Two thousand Carlists under Hierreo have entered the province of Palencia.

President Fly Nearga has refused to negotiate with the Carlists for the exchange of prisoners, but authorized the Republican Commanders to come to an understanding, unofficially, with the Carlist chiefs to secure proper treatment of the Spanish troops falling into the hands of the insurgents.

Doings of the Insurgents.

Madrid, July 16.—Senor Aurich, Ministerb of Marine, has returned from Cartagena. While there he was fired at by the insurgent troops. A portion of the garrison of Cartagena, who refused to join the revolt, will reach here to-day. Telegrams from Valentia state that due precautions have been taken to prevent an outbreak in that city. The Governor reports that volunteers may be relied on to support the authorities.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

ERIE RAILWAY.

Election of Officers.

New York, July 16.—The following are the officers of the Erie Railway, elected to-day: P H Watson, President; George H Blanchard, 2d Vice President; Jas C Clare, 3d Vice President; Henry Tyng, 4th Vice President; A R McDonough, Secretary; Executive Committee—S L M Barlow, W B Duncan, Edwin D Morgan and Frederick Schurhardt. On motion of President Watson, the office of 1st Vice President remains vacant for the present.

Important Financial Article of the New York Post.

New York, July 16.—The Post's financial article, referring to the strength of Vanderbilt stocks, to-wit, New York Central, Lake Shore and Western Union Telegraph, says: In the management of the latter Vanderbilt is now as patent as if his name appeared in the list of officers. As it is not unlikely it will after the next election, the Telegraph fluctuated between 87¾ and 83½, and in this connection it is already reported that the Commodore intends distributing as a dividend to stockholders the stock which the company owns, which is understood to amount to somewhere from six to eleven millions.

The Post, in the same article, also says as a matter of interest in regard to Southern securities: "It is to be noted that the State of Georgia is paying through the Fourth National Bank, finance agents of the State, the interest on its gold quarterly bonds. These bonds were issued by the Bullock administration. Hence their default and present payment is an encouraging feature for the future finances of that State."

Steamer Virginius.

New York, July 16.—Arrived—Algeria.

Correspondence from Panama of the 8th contains the following details of the escape of steamer Virginius, which had put in for repairs: The Spanish gunboat, Bazar, came in on 21st June and anchored between Virginius and her commander, not failing to let it be known that his instructions authorized him sink her if she attempted to escape. Same day in came the United States steamer Kansas and anchored not far from the Bayon, not long after the Canindiagua arrived.

Although everybody knows what the Virginus has been doing for the past year. Her character as a blockade runner being as clear as day. Yet Mr. Thorington, who acts as United States Consul at Aspinwall, certified that her papers from the last port, Carthegena, were all en'ire, and therefore she was entitled to proceed on as a merchant vessel belonging to the United States. Commander Reed, of Kansas, considering the Consul was technically right as to the letter, though not in his way of thinking as to the spirit of the law, conveyed the Virginius to sea at six P. M. of the first instant and remained outside of the harbor until she was lost to sight in the darkness.

The commander of the Spanish steamer Bazar, when he saw the odds against him proposed that the Virginius be sent to the United States for trial, offering to give surety for expenses if she were not condemned. The people here, though generally sympathizing with the Cuban patriots, think that in this instance the United States flag has been abused, and that Spain has not had fair play in the matter.

Commander Reed, when interviewed on the subject said he intended to call the attention of the authorities at Washington for the purpose of having the register taken away from the Virginius, and he further says that the Spaniards would be quite right in making or capturing her if caught at sea bearing for Cuba. In a neutral port, however, American commanders could do no less than grant her the protection she asked for. On the day of the sailing of the Virginius the Bazar did not even get up steam, her commander deciding to lay the correspondence which had taked place, together with his report, before the Spanish government, to be submitted to the authorities at Washington. The Virginius cleared for New York, constwise with no other cargo than arms and ammunition, which had been received from New York per the steamer Colan. The Bazar left Aspinwall on the second inst., and the Dacia sailed on the 18th to grappel for the Colan and Jamaica cable.

THE LOUISVILLE FIRES.

The Loss not so Great as First Supposed.

Louisville July 16.—The fire last night was not so disastrous as at first supposed. The losses will not exceed $80,000, with $70,00 or $75,000 insurance in the following companies: Ætna $14,000; London, Liverpool and Globe $10,000; Commercial of New York $6,000; American Central of St. Louis $5,000; Phœnix $7,000; balance in local companies.

The fires were undoubtedly the work of incendiaries.

Every fire engine in the city was at work when the last fire broke out.

Owing to the proximity of the flames to the Public Library, Theatre and other large buildings, great excitement prevailed.

Georgians at Fortress Monroe and the Roads.

Fortress Monroe, July 16.—A delegation of Georgia merchants comprising about fifty persons, accompanied by the officers of the Sea Board and Roanoke railroad and a number of prominent merchants of Norfolk and Portsmouth, arrived here this evening on a visit to the Fort and Hampton Roads. They remained until after dress parade, when they returned to Norfolk.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

Forty Volunteers Shot

Madrid, July 16.—It is asserted that the Carlists have shot forty of the Republican volunteers at Cirauque after they surrendered.

Stormy Meeting.

At a meeting of the majority of the members of the Cortes to-day, it was resolved to approve the proposition that the Cortes shall vote on the new constitution before closing its session.

Senor Maisonave made a violent attack on the members of the left, accusing them of forcing their views and measures upon the country. It was finally determined by the caucus that the Cortes should adjourn for a brief recess to reassemble at an early day to be agreed upon as the centre, was not represented in caucus.

Maisonave, Minister of Foreign Affairs; Carvajal, Minister of Finance, and Berges, Minister of Justice, have resigned in order to facilitate the formation of the Homogeneous Cabinet. The majority in the Cortes demand a vigorous ministry under Salmeron.

LOST CHILD FOUND.—Yesterday afternoon a little boy, who was quite young, son of Mrs. Hallock, who resided near the Rolling Mill, got off from home. It was about three o'clock the little fellow left his home. His absence was afterwards discovered by the watchful mother and finding that he did not answer to her call she became greatly distracted. The whole neighborhood was aroused and search instituted everywhere for the child. About seven o'clock in the evening Mr. Parish found the lost child near Castleberry's and brought him down to Captain Keely's store, and delivered him to policeman W. L. Jones, who conducted him home. The joy of the mother is beyond the power to be imagined than described. The boy was greatly fatigued, but not hurt during his absence.

SUPPER AT THE NATIONAL.—A most delightful little social entertainment occurred at the National last night. It was inaugurated by several gentlemen who were boarders at the house, in honor of Miss Katie Owens, who has returned from boarding school. Quite a number of friends of this young lady, including many of her fellow, graced the occasion with their presence. Dancing made the hours pass off only too rapidly. Refreshments of ices and cakes were profusely served, and were keenly relished, as dancing in such weather is said to be warm work. The festivities continued to a late hour, when the company retired, all having spent a happy evening.

LODGE OF SCHILLER LODGE I. O. O. F.—The Lodge which is composed of our German citizens, with a large number of friends, picnicked at the West End Brewery. No disorder occurred the day's business, so that every one had a good time, and where could have been a little better?

SOUTHERN MUSICAL JOURNAL.—The publishers of this excellent musical journal have given their own printers, and in the July number, just at hand, give us a fine specimen of typography, which can take pleasure in noticing. In its editorial, literary and musical departments, the journal is fully the equal of any similar publication in the United States, and in its elegant new dress (with new type, borders, headings, cuts, throughout,) and unlimited typography, we pronounce it among the handsomest. As a means of extending its circulation, the publishers now offer all new subscribers a premium of sheet music (of their own selection,) valued at fifty cents. Subscription price $1 per year. Specimen copies, containing $1 worth of music, free to any address. Ludden & Bates, publishers, Savannah, Ga.

A FIRE BANK VAULT.—Messrs. W. M. & R. J. Lowry are having put up in their store one of the finest bank vaults in the South. The vault is constructed of fourteen pieces of Stone Mountain granite, the aggregate weight of which is 50,720 pounds, or nearly twenty-five and a half tons. There were three hundred and seventeen cubic feet quarried. The length on the outside is nine feet ten and a half inches; on the inside seven feet. The width on the outside is six feet eight inches; on the inside five feet. The hight on the outside is eight feet eight inches; on the inside seven feet. Over the vault will be a brick wall of about two feet thickness, leaving an air chamber between the granite and the bricks for ventilation. The door is of iron, and is handsomely ornamented with the coat of arms of Georgia. It weighs 1,416 pounds, and is locked by a combination bank lock. The inside of the vault will contain a superb fire and burg'ar proof safe. When completed, the vault and safe will cost some $3,500.

PENCILINGS.—We saw yesterday one of the Governor's Guards studying Upton's tactics. He says he likes the infantry better than Upton.

Hon. George N. Lester will deliver the annual address before the DeKalb County Sunday School Association on the 28th of August.

The exercises of the male school at Decatur begin on the 20th instant with D. D. Ware as principal.

The citizens of Decatur meet to-morrow night, at the Court House, at 8 o'clock, to take action to build a Male and Female High School. The trustees, town commissioners and citizens are expected to confer together. Hon. M. A. Candler, R. M. Barry and other distinguished speakers will address the meeting.

There are thirty-one Sunday-schools in DeKalb county.

The Superintendent of the Georgia road, with the liberality that marks the conduct of that road, has attached a passenger coach to the way freight trains running between Rutledge and Atlanta. This is highly appreciated by the traveling public.

Messrs. Middleton & Bro. are making five copper stills of 150 gallons capacity each, for Cox & Hill's distillery, near Stone Mountain. The stills reflect credit on Messrs. M. & Bro. as coppersmiths.

The new horse hose reel of Atlanta Fire Company No. 1 is the most useful thing out.

Grand Fruit Exposition To-Night.

The Grand Fruit Exposition under the auspices of the Atlanta Pomological Society will commence in the rooms of the State Agricultural Society in the basement of the Capitol, at 4 o'clock this afternoon, and continue open until 12 o'clock P. M.

The entrance is on Forsyth street.

The room has been supplied with tables; each table will be devoted to a special fruit, and be under the management of a member of the society.

Invitations were sent out to Macon, Augusta, Cartersville, Rome, West Point, Savannah, Covington, Madison, and Newnan, for specimens of fruit. Cartersville was the first to respond followed by others.

Several tables will be devoted to flowers, and several to vegetables. We urge our fellow-citizens to send in contributions of fruits, flowers and vegetables for exhibition.

This is the first effort of the kind in this city, and we ask the co-operation of our fellow-citizens in making it a success.

The subject of fruits or cotton will be discussed to-night. The question is, "Is it more profitable to raise all cotton, or to raise part fruits and part cotton?" The discussion will begin at 8:30 o'clock P. M. His Excellency, Gov. James M. Smith, has kindly consented to serve as umpire during the debate.

Narrow Gauge Railroads Discussed.

ATLANTA, GA., July 15, 1873.

Editors Constitution: I notice in your valuable paper of the 13th an article headed "Georgia Western Railroad and Water Works." Now, Messrs. Editors, I am a friend of the Georgia Western Railroad, and especially a friend to the best interest of the city of Atlanta, and I beg to differ very widely with Colonel R. Hulbert in the main, upon the subject of Narrow Gauge Railroads. I think, just at this time, the Colonel's article is premature and uncalled for, and calculated to injure the Georgia Western Road, also the city of Atlanta. Indeed, I think myself, and I believe there are many other gentlemen of some railroad experience, who will think with me, that there is more "wind than water" in the Colonel's article. It is known by most of our citizens, and I suppose also by Colonel R. Hulbert, that there has been a change in officers of the Georgia Western Railroad, and that the Hon. L. P. Grant has been appointed President of the road, and there is no doubt but that the road is now undergoing a practical, and scientific survey, and will be reported on by that gentleman, at the proper time, both as to its cost and prospect of completion at an early day.

Indeed, Messrs. Editors, I think the Colonel has the narrow gauge question on the brain so strong that he runs it in the ground, and loses sight of the most important points to Atlanta, that the Western Road should be a broad gauge road, or in other words, to correspond with other roads now in operation throughout the South to illustrate the above remarks the Colonel sets out with the heading of his article as though he was going to give us some important information on the water works as well as the Georgia Western Railroad, but he utterly fails to give us any light whatever on the water works, which, in the opinion of the writer of this, is equally as important to this community as the Georgia Western Road, and I hope the Colonel will give us some light on the water works question, alone, in detail, its pass, probable cost, etc., and let the narrow gauge question drop for the present, and come into use when it can be most advantageously used upon its own merit, as it undoubtedly will in the course of time be used in all places where it is preferable to the broad gague without so much puffing.

It is well known by most all practical engineers and machinists that in the early history of railroads the durability of iron and rolling stock and most everything composing our present broad gauge railroads was greatly over estimated by scientific men. Indeed nearly double was claimed than there has been realized by practice, and I am fully satisfied that the advocates of the narrow gauge roads are claiming entirely too much for them, and I am fully satisfied that they are not practical for a main trunk road, where the traffic is very heavy, as it usually is on the Western and Atlantic and Georgia Railroads, and the traffic will be just as heavy or more so on the Georgia Western, if it is built, as either of the other roads above mentioned, and I would inform the Colonel that the greatest part of the trouble on the Western and Atlantic Railroad last winter grew out of the heavy traffic with too many trains on the road at a time, as it is well known that their freight trains should run through in eight or nine hours, but in such a press as that last winter it took nearly twice as long, promenading in the shady grove on the pond and eating the good things so abundantly provided. The party were well satisfied with the day's pleasures, and festivities until eleven o'clock last night. Out of the afternoon and also after dark, the city. No disorder occurred the day's business, so that every one had a good time, and where could have been a little better?

SUNDAY.—We learn with peculiar pleasure that a worthy lady and accomplished musician, loved by her devotion to the delightful art of song, may receive the benefits of Miss K.'s enthusiastic devotion, large experience and a first-class method, at some of the best musical institutions of country.

The education will be based upon the most approved conservatories of this and other countries, and those desirous of cultivating a correct and successful students, will have the opportunity of doing so under her supervision.

We learn that Miss Kennedy's intention to establish a school of music in Atlanta, and trust she will receive the hearty and liberal encouragement of the music loving public.—Musical Eclectic.

city, unless she turns her attention to manufacturing largely, which I contend she direct, to with the advantages she already has, even with coal at its price, but if the Georgia Western, with broad gauge, is built coal can and will be sold in Atlanta at retail for four dollars per ton, which is cheaper than it can be bought in most of the large cities on the continent.

If I believed, Messrs. Editors, that the future prosperity of Atlanta depended solely upon the city to control the Georgia Western Railroad, or any other railroad, I would sell out and leave the town, but Messrs. Editors, the reserve is the true secret of our former prosperity in our having so many railroads and not being able to control any one of them in our own interest.

Indeed, the free competition, with railroad facilities and the go-ahead spirit of our merchants, and especially the healthfulness of our city, is the real secret of our prosperity, and, in my judgment nothing on earth can stop the progress and prosperity of Atlanta if our merchants and citizens will show the same perseverance and go-ahead spirit in the future as they have in the past, and turn their attention to manufacturing as they should do. Messrs. Editors, I ask you in candor where, in the United States, can you name a single city with so large a population as Atlanta with less sickness or deaths at this so son of the year? Where will you find a more pleasant and pure atmosphere than there is here to-day, and for the past week the mercury has not been above ninety-one degrees in the day time and seventy-five at night; but I am making this article too long and must stop.

OUR COLLEGES.

MONROE FEMALE COLLEGE.

The Juniors have a Brilliant Time —The Queen of Song—Gov. Johnson's Letter.

FORSYTH, July 15, 1873.

Editors Constitution: The Junior Exhibition came off to day and was a brilliant success. The young ladies who read essays acquitted themselves with much credit. I have heard more brilliant compositions, because many outsiders had contributed to their make up. The young ladies who read to day, however, evidently had no assistance, and are, for this reason, entitled to much more consideration than those who read the productions of others and claim them for their own. The essays were

SIMPLE, ELEGANT AND CHASTE,

and indicated the progress of the young ladies, which progress should be very flattering to the Faculty. Below I give the programme:

What Must It Be? Miss Augusta M. Greer, Forsyth, Ga.

The Beauties of Nature. Miss Sallie A. Garland, Upson county, Ga.

The Looks of Old. Miss Cynthia J. Tolleson, Forsyth, Ga.

What Does It Cost. Miss Cordelia Hornady, Forsyth, Ga.

Our Mission. Miss Eliza B. Newson, Washington county, Ga.

Will It Pay? Miss Rafie S. Sneed, Forsyth, Ga.

Drawing and Painting. Miss Lillie B. Carswell Jefferson county, Ga.

It Might Have Been. Miss Katie Banks, Forsyth, Ga.

The part of the programme assigned was to deliver the prize to the best specimen of rhetorical reading by the members of the Sophomore Class. He did this in a very neat little speech of about fifteen minutes' length. He said a great deal in a very short time. Miss E. Amos was the happy recipient of the coveted honor, though the committee of award at ted that the contest was very close.

JUDGE TRIPPE

On last evening (Tuesday) the musical class of the college gave consisting of songs, instrumental pieces, etc. The musical talent of many of the performers is excellent. They cannot be surpassed as amateurs anywhere in our State. Miss Leonora Lipman has enjoyed a great many advantages, and has been under training for a number of years of that most accomplished German teacher, Professor Bechter, and can perform the most difficult pieces with ease and graceful success. Her performances always receive the most gratifying app ause. Miss Kate Milledge ranks unrivalled as the QUEEN OF SONG.

THE ANNUAL CONCERT,

I have no idea that Miss M. has a superior in the State as an amateur singer. Her rich, melodious voice is certainly a gift of nature, and has cultivated and trained for the highest state.

The singing of Miss Lee, of Atlanta, and of Misses Hillyer, Asbury and Gibson was also very good. Miss Lee has the finest alto voice I have ever heard.

The audience was delighted, and spoke in the highest terms of

and his accomplished pupils. Prof. B. is an accomplished musician and a very competent teacher.

Prof. Brahns, of Macon, was present, and kindly consented to add his assistance to the whole.

So far we have had the most brilliant commencement ever witnessed here. Everything works harmoniously and pleasantly.

Before the commencement the trustees invited the leading men of the State to be present. Several have accepted, and we have quite a number of distinguished guests in our midst. I enclose a letter written by Ex-Governor Johnson, expressing his regrets that he cannot be present. It is a production combining so much good sense with such chasteness and beauty of expression that I enclose a copy for publication.

To-day is commencement day and ten beautiful and accomplished young ladies graduate.

GOV. JOHNSON'S LETTER.

SANDY GROVE, BARTOW P. O., GA., July 13, 1873.

To Messrs Jas. S. Lawton, President; J. S. Pinckard, Vice President, et al.:

SIRS—I regret that I cannot be with you to-day, and during the commencement exercises of Monroe Female College, according to your special and complimentary invitation. It would afford me great pleasure, if circumstances permitted my attendance.

My heart is in full sympathy with the great cause of education, and I rejoice in the success of any effort for its promotion. It is identified with any interest sacred to man. The prosperity of our political institutions, the development of our resources, the advancement of our civilization and our growth in prosperity and power all depend upon the diffusion of knowledge. Next to the divine founder it is the hope of Christianity.

I am satisfied, after much earnest reflection, that no Commonwealth can be pure, patriotic, powerful and pious where women are uneducated. Hence the importance of the branch in which you are engaged—that of training for usefulness to society, the State and the Church those who are to be the mothers of the next generation. It is true in Natural Philosophy that the stream can never rise above its source. It is not more true, however, than that the community can never be purer and better than their women. They are the fountainheads of society; they train the plastic minds of the children, and impart the earliest lessons that direct their heads and hearts.

They water, by their teaching and examples, the germinating elements of character, and develope them into vigorous strength for good or ill. Hence, as a general proposition, society will be pure, orderly, patriotic and virtuous, in the ratio that its women are cultivated, refined, intelligent and pious. That country is blessed whose women are educated, in heart and intellect. It is cursed if they be ignorant and their moral faculties have not been trained into harmony with the Heavenly precept.

As a Georgian, I am proud, that she is not behind other States in the cause of female education. I rejoice in what has been accomplished by its friends and votaries, and pray a golden harvest in the future.

My heart is with you, and I hope your commencement will be a joy to patriots and the patrons of the institution, and that, for indefinite years to come, your college will continue to distribute jewels over our beloved State. Your obedient servant,

HERSCHELL V. JOHNSON.

I will send you full particulars to-morrow.

CONYERS FEMALE COLLEGE.

Commencement Day—Large Audiences—Gratifying Success—Professor Brittain.

CONYERS, July 16, 1873.

To-day has been a gala day for the Conyers Female College. The town has been thronged all day with visitors to witness the exercises of

COMMENCEMENT DAY.

A fine and appreciative audience greeted the fair ladies and gentlemen to-day. The essays were well written and gave evidence of native talent and cultivated intellect. They reflected the highest honor upon upon the capacity and fidelity of President Brittain and his assistants.

Where all acquitted themselves so well, your correspondent feels loth to particularize.

He will content himself with giving the names and subjects in their regular order.

Miss Maggie Almand, Conyers, Ga. Inconsistencies.

Miss Annis Lee, Conyers, Ga. The Imperfection of that Happiness which Rests Solely on Worldly Pleasures.

SENIOR CLASS.

Miss Hattie Boaz, (1st honor), Rockdale county, Ga. I Wonder Why. Valedictory to Class and Schoolmates.

Miss Angie Bostwick, (1st honor), Conyers, Ga. Foot-prints on the sand of time. Valedictory to Faculty and Trustees.

After the conferring of the degrees, the

ANNUAL LITERARY ADDRESS

was delivered by Rev. Henry Quinn. It was sparkling with humor and replete with grand thoughts. It was chaste and appropriate, and of that high order of eloquence that characterizes all the efforts of that divine and scholar. Mr. Frank A. Lipscomb was expected to deliver the address but was prevented by sickness from attending.

Conyers Female College ought to be proud of her commencement day of 1873, and of her energetic President and his assistants.

THE COURTS.

Criminal Matters in the Justices' Courts.—Bill Maloney Committed to Jail for Burglary—Story of an Injured Wife, Etc., Etc.

The Commissioner's Court.

Mr. Michael H. Brady, of Pickens county, who was committed to jail here some four weeks ago in default of bond of $500, for illicit distilling, succeeded yesterday in giving the required bond to Commissioner Smith, and escaping further confinement. He was discharged early in the forenoon.

The Justice's Courts.

The negro man, Bill Maloney, who was arrested a few nights ago for breking into the residence of Mr. J. M. Goldsmith, and stealing a lot of grating irons, which he subsequently sold, was tried yesterday before Justice Buit, for burglary. Bill failed by a great deal of making a satisfactory showing for himself, and was commited 1 to jail to await the next term of the Superior Court in default of $200.

Some five or six years ago, a certain colored Lothario, by the name of Pompey Bigby emigrated to this place from the town of Newnan. Pompey left behind him a wife, to whom he had been married for twenty years, and several interesting children. He went to work here and behaved himself pretty well for some time, sending money regularly to his wife, and occasionally paying a visit home. But subsequently Pompey fell into very evil ways, and became so very wicked that, shortly before last Christmas he was married to a woman here named Eliza.

On last Saturday the outraged wife, Silvey Bigby, came from Newnan to Atlanta, bringing a son with her to call her lord and master to account. The meeting between them on Sunday night was very lively—in fact, so lively that the police were compelled to interfere and arrest Mrs. Silvey for disorderly conduct. She remained in the station house from Sunday night to Tuesday morning. She then procured her release by paying a portion of her fine and leaving her little boy with the police to work out the balance.

Yesterday she swore out a warrant against the festive Pompey, charging him with adultery and fornication committed with this girl Eliza.

The parties were before Justice Sasseen and Bust yesterday afternoon. On account of the absence of witnesses, the case had to be postponed, and in the mean time the wife returns to Newnan. She will come back, however, in time to put Pompey through a course of penitence, when the trial takes place.

Dick Huff and his brother Joe Huff, appeared before Justice Munday yesterday in answer to the peace warrant sworn out against them by Goodlett. After consultation, they waived all investigation before the Magistrate, and gave bond to keep the peace in the sum of $200 each.

Justice Hammond, in the case of Glass vs. Clower to which allusion was made in yesterday's paper, has rendered his decision in which he requires Glass to pay Mrs. Clower $1, the amount sued for, and to pay the costs on the board bill, and required Mrs. Clower to surrender up the possession of the melodeon.

We learn that Mrs. Clower is dissatisfied with this decision and will appeal to a higher tribunal.

Station House Report

The police made eight city arrests yesterday, all for disorderly conduct and drunkenness.

One convict from Alabany, Georgia, on his way to the chain gang, was lodged there last night and carried on this morning.

IMPORTANCE TO HEALTH BLOOD.—Every drop of blood that circulates through the veins eventually becomes a solid particle of the body. Flesh, bone and muscle are merely solidified blood, and upon the quality of the blood depends the condition of the whole physical system. Unless the liquid material by which the human substance is renewed and sustained is pure and nutritious it is impossible that the body can be healthy and strong. One of the most important properties of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is that of improving the condition of the vital fluid when infected or impoverished. Acting directly and powerfully upon the stomach, in which the manufacture of the blood is commenced, and upon the liver which secretes a fluid next in importance to the stream of life itself, this powerful vegetable tonic and depurent has an immense indirect influence upon the circulation. Hence the extraordinary cures wrought by the Bitters in cases of general debility, malarious fevers, rheumatism, biliousness, constipation, etc.

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION

CASABIANCA OF THE PERIOD.

He came—the image of his sire,
With all the charms that youth can lend.
And sat beside the kitchen fire,
While mama did his garments mend.

[illegible]
[illegible]
And all the [illegible] sound
Were strewn with marbles, jack-knives, stones.

A dirty handkerchief, some gum,
Fragments of cake, a dozen nails,
A photograph that had become
The worse for wear—but language fails.

So thought the matron, in dismay;
And with intention to destroy,
Thrust in the stove such cards as they
Who play at euchre would employ.

But quick, the boy, through smoke and flame,
Grabbed them, nor cared for burns a speck;
And like young Cæsar, when he swam
Trod bravely on the burning deck.

A YOUNG HEROINE.

A Wisconsin Girl Saving the Lives of her Little Sisters and Brothers.

From the Wisconsin River Pilot.]

Thomas Velfe and wife, with a family of small children, settled in this county something more than a year ago, and, being poor, they, after many hardships, erected a small dwelling and cleared a few acres of land, but they were in the wilderness ten miles from neighbors. A few weeks ago the father and mother left their family, consisting of a girl aged twelve years, one aged nine years, and two other children, aged respectively three years and thirteen months, on a trip to the settlement to get a cow and bring in some potatoes to plant.

After the parents had been gone a few hours the house took fire and the oldest girl immediately rushed to the roof with water, but not being able to remove the shingle she could do nothing to stay the flames, which gained rapidly, spreading on the inside of the roof, until bursting through they drove her from her work. The heroic girl now turned her attention to saving her brothers and sisters. Coming to the door of the building, she found that the child next to her own age had got out of the house bringing the baby with her, but the little year old had crouched under a shaving horse in the further corner of the room. There being no chamber floor, the fire was dropping from the burning roof between the child and the door, and when asked to come out it refused to do so, saying: "I am safe here; the fire don't drop here."

Our little heroine hesitated only a moment, but rushing through the falling embers brought the little one to a safe place, both having their clothes somewhat burnt. But now comes the hardest part of the task before her. Scantily clothed and with no food she took the babe in her arms, and with the other children started upon the trail for the settlement. After going a few miles she encountered a rapid stream, swollen by the spring rains, so that in fording it the water came up to her armpits. She first carried the babe across, and then the three-year old, and lastly half led, half carried the older sister through the water to the other bank. Three times during the remainder of the day she struggled through the swollen streams in her way until night set in, the deep forest surrounding her. Cold, wet, and hungry, she sought a place to camp, and by good fortune found an old camp left by the Indians, upon which about one-half of the roof still remained.

Under this she placed her little flock and then collected pine boughs and made a rude bed. Placing the little one in the middle, the heroic girl stripped off her dress and spread it over the children, then covered them with boughs to keep them from the chilly night air, and sat down beside them, to watch through that long, cold night, comforting the little one when it cried, and speaking words of cheer to the older one. The long, dreary hours of night dragged slowly by, and at the first peep of day she resumed her toilsome march, and had nearly reached the first settler when she met her parents returning. An older and a wiser head might have found an easier way out of the dilemma, but we feel certain that no one could have acted braver or have endured more than the little daughter of Thomas Velfe.

Death at the Communion Table.

From the Hopkinsville (Ky.) New Era.]

We have to chronicle one of the saddest occurrences that have transpired in this county for many years. On last Sunday the Methodist held a quarterly conference at Shiloh church, five miles west of Hopkinsville. A large concourse of people were present, and at the close of the sermon Christians were invited to come to the communion table and partake of the Lord's Supper. Mrs. Emily Owen, wife of T. A. Owen, being a communicant, walked forward apparently in as good health as any person in the church, but when in the very act of kneeling at the altar dropped dead. A physician present came to her side immediately, but all efforts to restore her were in vain. The calamity was so shocking, and cast such a gloom over the congregation, that the people dispersed to their home before the close of the day's services. It is thought that she died of heart disease. Mrs. Owen was an estimable lady, and leaves a distressed husband and three little children to mourn their irreparable loss.

THE EARTHQUAKE AT BUFFALO.—Concerning the earthquake at Buffalo, New York, on Monday, the New York Post says:

The first shock occurred about four o'clock, the second a few minutes before seven o'clock, and the third about twenty-two minutes before ten. The first attracted but little attention, the second had a larger number of witnesses to its occurrence, and the third made itself felt to nearly the entire community. The third is the one of which we were personally cognizant, and it is about this that the people talk most. It commenced with a shock of considerable violence; a tremor succeeded this which maintained a degree of uniformity for some seconds, and finally it died away gradually into an almost imperceptible tremulousness. Buildings rocked, windows rumbled, dishes rattled, spires quivered, and there was nothing so substantial as to be exempt from the disturbance.

WHY WILL YE DIE?—Death, or what is worse, is the inevitable result of continued suspension of the menstrual flow. It is a condition which should not be trifled with. Immediate relief is the only safeguard against constitutional ruin. In all cases of suppression, suspension or other irregularity of the "courses," Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator is the only sure remedy. It acts by giving tone to the nervous centres, improving the blood and determining directly to the organs of menstruation. It is a legitimate prescription, and the most intelligent Doctors use it. Prepared by J. H. Bradfield, druggist, Atlanta, Ga; $1 50 per bottle, and sold by respectable druggists everywhere.

TUSCUMBIA, ALA.

MR. L. H. BRADFIELD—Sir: Please forward us, immediately, another supply of BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR. We find it to be all that is claimed for it, and we have witnessed the most decided and happy effects produced by it. Very respectfully,

I could add a thousand other certificates; but I consider the above amply sufficient proof of its virtue. All I ask is a trial.
J. BRADFIELD, Atlanta, Ga.

THIS CONCENTRATED VEGETABLE SPECIFIC is a true Purifier of the Blood. It thoroughly neutralizes and eliminates from the system the specific virus which causes such a long list of human suffering.

In every form of scrofulous, mercurial and constitutional blood complaints it stands without compeer, rapidly curing ulcers, pustules, carbuncles, scald head, salt rheum, and the 28 different varieties of skin affections. It is a positive curative for scrofula, and the deadly cacoxy of mercury, lead and arsenic, quickly eliminates them from the system. The Fluid Extract of Queens delight, prepared by Dr. J. S. Pemberton, has made the most wonderful and astonishing cures. Its purifying, vivifying and tonic properties exercise the quickest and most powerful effects in restoring health. It is harmless to the most delicate, and can never be used amiss. It is the true beautifier of the complexion. If you want pure rich blood, clear skin and beautiful complexion, use the Compound Extract of Stillingia or Queens Delight. Read our treatise on diseases of the blood. DR. TUTTS VEGETABLE LIVER PILLS.

The startling drawback on nearly all medicinal agents has ever been that in their process of purgation and purification they have also debilitated the system. To obviate this difficulty physicians have long sought for the agent that would

PURGE, PURIFY AND STRENGTHEN

At one and the same time.

Their research has at last been rewarded by a discovery which full realizes the fondest desires of the medical faculty, and which is justly regarded as the most important triumph that Pharmacy has ever achieved The important desideratum is

Dr Tutt's Vegetable Liver Pill.

Which purify the blood and remove all corrupt humors and unhealthy accumulations from the body, and yet produces no weakness or lassitude whatever, but on the contrary tones the stomach, and invigorates the body during the progress of their operation. They unite the heterogene irreconcilable qualities of a STRENGTHENING PURGATIVE and PURIFYING TONIC.

Dr Tutt's Pills are the most active and searching medicine in existence. They at once attack the very root of diseases, and their action is so prompt that in an hour or two after they are taken the patient is aware of their good effects. They may be taken at any time without restraint of diet or occupation; they produce neither nausea, griping or debility, and as a family medicine they have no rival.

Price 25 cents a box. Sold by all Druggists.
Principal office, 18 and 20 Platt St., New York.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN JURUBEBA BLOOD PURIFIER

Is the Most Powerful Cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, etc., etc.

When weary and languid from overwork, and dullness, drowsiness and inertia take the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their recuperative power.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURRUBEBA is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties: it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.
